Report on Review of Consolidated Interim Condensed Financial Statements

To the Shareholders and Board of Directors of PJSC Tatneft:

Introduction

We have reviewed the accompanying consolidated interim condensed statement of financial position of PJSC Tatneft and its subsidiaries (together – the “Group”) as at 30 September 2021 and the related consolidated interim condensed statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income for the three-month and nine-month periods then ended, change in equity and cash flows for the nine-month period then ended, and the related explanatory notes. Management is responsible for the preparation and presentation of these consolidated interim condensed financial statements in accordance with International Accounting Standard 34, “Interim Financial Reporting”. Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on these consolidated interim condensed financial statements based on our review.

Scope of Review

We conducted our review in accordance with International Standard on Review Engagements 2410, “Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity”. A review of consolidated interim condensed financial statements consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying consolidated interim condensed financial statements are not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with International Accounting Standard 34, “Interim Financial Reporting”.

Note 1: Organisation

PJSC Tatneft (the “Company”) and its controlled subsidiaries (jointly referred to as the “Group”) are engaged in crude oil exploration, development and production principally in the Republic of Tatarstan (“Tatarstan”), a republic within the Russian Federation. The Group also engages in refining of crude oil and associated petroleum gas processing, marketing of crude oil and refined products as well as production and marketing of petrochemicals and banking activities.

The Company was incorporated as an open joint stock company (now referred to as a public joint stock company) effective 1 January 1994 (the “privatization date”) pursuant to the approval of the State Property Management Committee of the Republic of Tatarstan. All assets and liabilities previously managed by the production association Tatneft, Bugulminsky Mechanical Plant, Menzelinsky Exploratory Drilling Department and Bavlinsky Drilling Department were transferred to the Company at their book value at the privatization date in accordance with Decree of the President of the Russian Federation No. 1403 on Privatization and Restructuring of Enterprises and Corporations into Joint-Stock Companies. Such transfers were considered transfers between entities under common control at the privatization date, and were recorded at book value.

The Company does not have an ultimate controlling party.

As at 30 September 2021 and 31 December 2020 the government of Tatarstan controls about 36% of the Company’s voting stock. Tatarstan also holds a “Golden Share”, a special governmental right, in the Company. The exercise of its powers under the Golden Share enables the Tatarstan government to appoint one representative to the Board of Directors and one representative to the Revision Committee of the Company as well as to veto certain major decisions, including those relating to changes in the share capital, amendments to the Charter, liquidation or reorganization of the Company and “major” and “interested party” transactions as defined under Russian law. The Golden Share currently has an indefinite term. The Tatarstan government also controls or exercises significant influence over a number of the Group’s suppliers and contractors.

The Company is domiciled in the Russian Federation. The address of its registered office is Lenina St., 75, Almetyevsk, Republic of Tatarstan, Russian Federation.

Note 2: Basis of preparation

The consolidated interim condensed financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IAS 34 “Interim Financial Reporting”. The consolidated interim condensed financial statements should be read in conjunction with the annual consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2020, which have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”).

These unaudited consolidated interim condensed financial statements do not include all the information required in the annual IFRS financial statements. The Company omitted disclosures which would substantially duplicate the disclosures contained in its 2020 audited consolidated financial statements, such as accounting policies and details of accounts which have not changed significantly in amount or composition. Management believes that the information in these consolidated interim condensed financial statements is sufficiently disclosed not to mislead users if they are read in conjunction with the Group’s 2020 audited consolidated financial statements and the notes related thereto.

The entities of the Group maintain their accounting records and prepare their statutory financial statements principally in accordance with the Federal Accounting Standards of the Russian Federation, and applicable accounting and reporting standards of countries outside the Russian Federation.

A number of entities of the Group prepare their financial statements in accordance with IFRS. The accompanying consolidated interim condensed financial statements have been prepared from these accounting records and adjusted as necessary to comply with IFRS.

The accounting policies used in preparing these consolidated interim condensed financial statements were the same as those that applied to the consolidated financial statements for the previous financial year.

Use of estimates in the preparation of financial statements. The Group makes estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts recognised in the financial statements and the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year. Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on management’s experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

Judgements that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated interim condensed financial statements and estimates that can cause a significant adjustment to the carrying amount of assets and liabilities within the next financial year include:

- Estimation of oil and gas reserves;
- Useful life of property, plant and equipment;
- Decommissioning provisions;
- Impairment of property, plant and equipment;
- Accounting of investments in JSC “National Non-State Pension Fund”;
- Presentation of Revenue net of excise tax, including reverse excise;
- Sale and purchase of oil under counter oil supply agreement;
- Financial assets impairment;
- Financial assets classification;
- Financial instruments fair value estimation.

In preparing of these consolidated interim condensed financial statements, the significant judgements made by management in applying the Group’s accounting policies and the key sources of estimation uncertainty were the same as those that applied to the consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2020.

Presentation of Revenue net of excise tax, including reverse (negative) excise. For the three and nine months ended 30 September 2021 and 2020 the revenue in the consolidated interim condensed statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the Group is presented net of excise taxes, including reverse (negative) excise on crude oil refined, gasoline and diesel fuel.

For the nine months ended 30 September 2021 and 2020 excise on refinery products amounted to 34,214 million and RR 33,362 million respectively, reverse (negative) excise on crude oil refined, gasoline and diesel fuel amounted to RR 45,888 million recoverable and RR 7,262 million payable respectively.

For the three months ended 30 September 2021 and 2020 excise on refinery products amounted to RR 10,202 million and RR 11,567 million respectively, reverse (negative) excise on crude oil refined, gasoline and diesel fuel amounted to RR 20,134 million recoverable and RR 1,819 million payable respectively.

Operations for the sale and purchase of oil under contracts for counter oil deliveries. For the three and nine months ended 30 September 2021 and 2020, the sale and purchase of crude oil under a counter supply agreement are presented net in the consolidated interim condensed statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the Group in accordance with the IFRS 15 requirements for the similar quality products exchange.

For the nine months ended 30 September 2021 and 2020 sales of crude oil under counter-delivery contracts amounted of RR 141,206 and RR 64,312 million respectively.

For the three months ended 30 September 2021 and 2020 sales of crude oil under counter-delivery contracts amounted of RR 45,403 and RR 32,055 million respectively.

Functional and Presentation Currency. The presentation currency of the Group is the Russian Ruble. Management has determined the functional currency for each consolidated subsidiary of the Group, except for subsidiaries located outside of the Russian Federation, is the Russian Ruble because the majority of Group revenues, costs, property and equipment purchased, debt and trade liabilities are either priced, incurred, payable or otherwise measured in Russian Rubles. Accordingly, transactions and balances not measured in Russian Rubles (primarily US Dollars) have been re-measured into Russian Rubles in accordance with the relevant provisions of IAS 21 “The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates”.

For operations of major subsidiaries located outside of the Russian Federation, that primarily use US Dollar as the functional currency, adjustments resulting from translating foreign functional currency assets and liabilities into Russian Rubles are recorded in a separate component of shareholders’ equity entitled foreign currency translation adjustments. Revenues, expenses and cash flows are translated at average exchange rates (unless this average is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the rate on the dates of the transactions).

The official rate of exchange, as published by the Central Bank of Russian Federation (“Bank of Russia”), of the Russian Ruble (“RR”) to the US Dollar (“US $”) at 30 September 2021 and 31 December 2020 was RR 72.76 and RR 73.88 to US $, respectively. Average rate of exchange for the nine months ended 30 September 2021 and 30 September 2020 were RR 74.01 and RR 70.78 per US $, respectively.

Total rights in the amount of RR 5,355 million were accounted as other loans in other short-term financial assets carried at amortised cost at 31 December 2020. These claims were fully repaid in the second quarter of 2021.

Deposits measured at fair value through profit or loss are prepayments for currency forward contracts with Russian commercial bank. For the nine months ended 30 September 2021, the Group recognised income from changes in the fair value of financial assets on non-banking activities at fair value through profit or loss, net in the amount of RR 563 million (for the nine months ended 30 September 2020: there were no such income).

Operating segments are components that engage in business activities that may earn revenues or incur expenses, whose operating results are regularly reviewed by the Board of Directors and the Management Committee and for which discrete financial information is available.

Segments whose revenue, result or assets are 10% or more of all the segments are reported separately.

The Group's business activities are conducted predominantly through four main operating segments:

- Exploration and production consists of exploration, development, extraction and sale of own crude oil. Intersegment sales consist of transfer of crude oil to refinery and other goods and services provided to other operating segments;
- Refining and marketing comprises purchases and sales of crude oil and refined products from third parties, own refining activities and retailing operations;
- Petrochemical products include production and sales of tires, technical carbon;
- Banking segment includes operations of Banking Group ZENIT.

Other sales include revenues from ancillary services provided by the specialised subdivisions and subsidiaries of the Group, such as sales of oilfield equipment, revenues from the sale of auxiliary petrochemical related services and materials as well as other business activities, which do not constitute reportable business segments.

The Group evaluates performance of its reportable operating segments and allocates resources based on segment earnings, defined as profit before income tax not including interest income, expense on non-banking activities, and gains from equity investments, other income (expenses) and foreign exchange loss or gain. Intersegment sales are at prices that approximate market. Effective the current reporting period, the Group uses an export netback calculated based on average Urals quotes less export duty, freight and transportation costs to calculate the cost of its own oil for refining. Group financing (including interest expense and interest income on non-banking activities) and income taxes are managed on a Group basis and are not allocated to operating segments.

Note 19: Contingencies and commitmentsOperating Environment of the Group

The economy of the Russian Federation displays certain characteristics of an emerging market. It is particularly sensitive to oil and gas prices and subject to significant negative impact of continuous decrease in crude oil prices.

In March 2020 the World Health Organization announced a pandemic due to the rapid spread of COVID-19. The measures taken around the world to combat the spread of COVID-19 resulted in limitation of business activity, which caused significant decrease in world demand for energy resources. The expiration of prior arrangement of OPEC+ on April 1, 2020 raised the risks of substantial oversupply of crude oil and refined products in the market. These events led to significant drop in stock markets, fall in crude oil prices, the Russian Ruble weakened against the US dollar and the Euro. In April 2020, the OPEC + countries reached a new agreement, under which the Russian Federation assumed obligations to reduce oil production in the period from May 1, 2020 to April 30, 2022. In accordance with the agreements reached, the Group began to fulfill its obligations to reduce oil production. In April 2021, the OPEC + countries agreed to remove some of the restrictions and gradually increase oil production, in July 2021 - on the extension of the agreement until the end of 2022 and a gradual increase in oil production. Despite the new OPEC + agreement, the stabilization of oil prices and recovery of oil production may be delayed. These events can have a significant impact on the operations, financial position and financial results of the Group in the future, the consequences of which are difficult to predict. Management created provisions for impairment considering the economic situation and prospects at the end of the reporting period (Note 10).

Tax, currency and customs legislation are sometimes subject to varying interpretations and contributes to the challenges faced by companies operating in the Russian Federation. The Russian economy continues to be negatively impacted by ongoing political tension in the region and international sanctions against certain Russian companies and individuals. The future economic development of the Russian Federation depends on external factors and internal measures taken by the government and changes in the tax, legal and regulatory framework.

Continued uncertainty regarding further economic growth, volatility in the financial markets, lower global oil prices, reduced oil production, as well as other risks, could have a significant negative impact on the financial and corporate sectors of the Russian economy in the future. Management believes it is taking all necessary measures to support the sustainability and development of the Group's business in the current business and economic environment. As with any economic forecast, however, the projections and likelihoods of their occurrence are subject to a high degree of inherent uncertainty and therefore the actual outcomes may be significantly different from those projected.

Capital commitments. As at 30 September 2021 and at 31 December 2020 the Group has approximate outstanding capital commitments of RR 74,369 million and RR 71,829 million, respectively, mainly for the construction of the TANECO refinery complex, drilling and construction of wells, superviscous oil fields facilities construction and tire business development project. These commitments are expected to be paid between 2021 and 2025.

Management believes the Group's current and long-term capital expenditures program can be funded through cash flows generated from existing operations as well as lines of credit available to the Company. The TANECO refinery project has been funded from the Company's cash flow with the support of the bank facilities (Note 12).

Management believes the Company has the ability to obtain syndicated loans and other financings as needed to continue funding the own projects, refinance any maturing debts as well as finance business acquisitions and other transactions that may arise in the future.

Credit related commitments. The credit related commitments comprise loan commitments, letters of credit and guarantees. The contractual commitments represent the value at risk should the contract be fully drawn upon, the client defaults, and the value of any existing collateral becomes worthless. In general, certain part of Group's letters of credit are collateralised with cash deposits or collateral pledged to the Group and accordingly the Group normally assumes minimal risk.

Outstanding credit related commitments are as follows:

	At 30 September 2021	At 31 December 2020
Undrawn credit lines that are irrevocable or are revocable only in response to a material adverse change	27,615	34,249
Guarantees issued	10,782	12,928
Letters of credit	304	185
Less: allowance for credit related commitment	(301)	(406)
Less: commitments collateralised by cash deposits under guarantees issued	-	(6)
Less: commitments collateralised by cash deposits under letters of credit	(304)	(182)
Total credit related commitments	38,096	46,768

Taxation. The Russian tax legislation is subject to varying interpretations and changes which can occur frequently. Management's interpretation of the legislation, as applied to the transactions and activities, may be challenged by the tax authorities.

The tax authorities may take a different position in their interpretation of the legislation, and it is possible that transactions and activities that have not been challenged in the past may be challenged.

The Russian transfer pricing legislation is generally aligned with the international transfer pricing principles developed by the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD), with certain specific features. This legislation allows tax authorities to assess additional taxes for controllable transactions (transactions between related parties and certain transactions between unrelated parties) if such transactions are not on an arm's length basis.

Tax liabilities arising from intercompany transactions are determined using actual transaction prices. It is possible, with the evolution of the interpretation of the transfer pricing rules, that such prices could be challenged. Management believes that its pricing policy is arm's length and it has implemented internal processes to be in compliance with the new transfer pricing legislation. The Group believes that its interpretation of the new legislation is appropriate and the Group's tax position will be sustained.

Environmental contingencies. The Group, through its predecessor entities, has operated in Tatarstan for many years without developed environmental laws, regulations and the Group's policies. Environmental regulations and their enforcement are currently being considered in the Russian Federation and the Group is monitoring its potential obligations related thereto. The outcome of environmental liabilities under proposed or any future environmental legislation cannot reasonably be estimated at present, but could be material. The Group has reviewed its exposure to climate related and other emerging business risks but has not identified any risks that could impact the financial performance or position of the Group at reporting date. Under existing legislation, management believes that there are no probable liabilities, which would have a material adverse effect on the operating results or financial position of the Group. In addition, the Group is introducing and applying best health, safety and environmental protection practices and standards which might go beyond any existing and potential legal requirements in the Russian Federation.

Legal contingencies. The Group is subject to various lawsuits and claims arising in the ordinary course of business. The outcomes of such contingencies, lawsuits or other proceedings cannot be determined at present. In the case of all known contingencies the Group accrues a liability when the loss is probable and the amount is reasonably estimable. Based on currently available information, management believes that it is remote that future costs related to known contingent liability exposures would have a material adverse impact on the Group's consolidated interim condensed financial statements.

Social commitments. The Group contributes significantly to the maintenance of local infrastructure and the welfare of its employees within Tatarstan, which includes contributions towards the construction, development and maintenance of housing, hospitals and transport services, recreation and other social needs. Such funding is periodically determined by the Board of Directors after consultation with governmental authorities and recorded as expenditures when incurred.

Transportation of crude oil. The Group transports substantially all of the crude oil that it sells in export and local markets through trunk pipelines in Russia that are controlled by PJSC Transneft, the state-owned monopoly owner and operator of Russia's trunk crude oil pipelines. The Group's crude oil is blended in the Transneft pipeline system with other crude oil of varying qualities to produce an export blend commonly referred to as Urals. There is currently no equalization scheme for differences in crude oil quality within the Transneft pipeline system and the implementation of any such scheme or the impact of it on the Group's business is not currently determinable.

Note 20: Fair values

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an ordinary transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The estimated fair values of financial instruments are determined with reference to various market information and other valuation techniques as considered appropriate.

The different levels of fair value hierarchy have been defined as follows:

Level 1 – Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that Group has the ability to assess at the measurement date.

Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3 – Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. These inputs reflect the Group's own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in pricing the asset or liability.

Recurring fair value measurements

The levels in the fair value hierarchy into which the recurring fair value measurements are categorised are as follows:

The acquired companies constitute the enterprise for the production and sale of polyethylene terephthalate used for the production of PET bottles and cans, food containers and packaging, as well as other technical and household products. The acquired subsidiaries contribute to the further development of the Group's petrochemical business.
